

A person is walking away from the viewer down a dirt path in a dense forest. The person is wearing a dark t-shirt, light blue jeans, and a backpack. A chainsaw is slung over their shoulder. The forest is filled with tall, thin trees, and the ground is covered in fallen leaves and some green moss. The overall atmosphere is mysterious and slightly ominous.

Thanks To: Elise my friend, companion, partner, confidant & wife; life IS a happy song. Mom & Dad always my biggest supporters. The Arsenault Clan for welcoming me so warmly; Outlaws! Thom Oz for your talent, encouragement, belief, and friendship. Erin LaNinfa for your friendship, encouraging me to get back to making music, and for being a sounding board in the early stages of this project. Jessica Hines for the incredible artwork featured here. Allan and Brian for our "Second Time Around." Andre & his fireside challenge. Finally to All of The Wonderful People who contributed to and shared the Last In Petrichor Indiegogo campaign and helped make this album a reality; especially:

a pleasant smell that frequently accompanies the first rain after a long period of warm, dry weather.
